MESSAGE FROM THE POLICE COMMISSIONER

It has been one year since I presented the Baltimore Police Department's Five-Year Strategic Crime Reduction and Transformation Plan. This past year has presented many challenges, from a change in City leadership to a ransomware attack to the COVID-19 emergency to mass police reform protests, all in the midst of historic levels of violence. Despite these challenges, progress continues to be made on many fronts. This document outlines some of the notable accomplishments of the work that we have done during this time.

I am extremely proud of my team, the brave men and women of the BPD, and all of the progress that we have achieved. No one accomplishment by itself will solve all of our problems, but taken together represent positive momentum and a foundation that we will build upon this upcoming year and beyond. As we do this, we will add greater capacity, become a stronger Department, and improve our ability to respond to and prevent crime in Baltimore.

POLICE COMMISSIONER MICHAEL HARRISON

NO ONE ACCOMPLISHMENT BY ITSELF WILL SOLVE ALL OF OUR PROBLEMS, BUT TAKEN TOGETHER REPRESENT POSITIVE MOMENTUM AND A FOUNDATION THAT WE WILL BUILD UPON THIS UPCOMING YEAR AND BEYOND.

CITYWIDE CRIME STATISTICS

YTD COMPARISON (JANUARY 1ST TO MAY 31ST)

BPD is making progress on nearly every index crime. However, shootings (while declining from the prior year) and homicides unacceptably persist. Among the initiatives that BPD is undertaking to address this violence include the launch of focused deterrence and group violence intervention. Experience with these programs in New Orleans, as well as in other cities where successfully implemented has demonstrated substantial reductions in homicides and gun violence to levels not seen in decades.

BPD, in conjunction with the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, has been working diligently to build the program. We have secured financial commitments from institutional and philanthropic sources over the next three years that will fund the initiative starting in early FY21.

MAJOR POLICE ACADEMY INVESTMENTS

MAJOR INVESTMENTS IN THE POLICE ACADEMY ENSURE RECRUITS AND OFFICERS RECEIVE THE MOST CUTTING EDGE LAW ENFORCEMENT TRAINING TODAY

Moved the Training Academy from a dilapidated and functionally obsolete former middle school to a rehabilitated building at the University of Baltimore.

Increased staffing for Academy personnel, including the Department's first civilian Academic Director, as well as new legal and curriculum writers.

-8
WEEKS

Reduced academy schedule by 8 weeks without affecting training standards or coursework. This allows for greater capacity by starting 6 academy classes per year as well as the ability to put recruits on the streets faster.

#AFORCE FORGOOD

Innovative Digital Marketing Campaign and Rebranding Paying Dividends:

- ☑ Applications to join BPD have more than doubled.
- ☑ Hiring is on pace to increase 33% over last calendar year.

THE ACADEMY WILL NOW HAVE THE DESIGN, SPACE AND TECHNOLOGY CAPACITY TO TRAIN 200-400 RECRUITS AND 2,500 OFFICERS FOR IN-SERVICE TRAINING ANNUALLY.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT & TRAINING

ACHIEVING SUCCESS AND CULTIVATING THE NEXT GENERATION OF BPD LEADERSHIP THROUGH PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING

Created competitive and open promotions process allowing anyone qualified to apply and compete for command openings.

FBI

BPD's Colonel in charge of CID completed the prestigious 10-week FBI National Academy, and another commander will attend this year.

Six commanders have been sent to the Senior Management Institute in Policing, with another six attending this year.

All Homicide detectives are now required and currently being trained in basic and advanced death investigations courses. No formal training was required previously.

Command staff attends seminar series from leading law enforcement experts on such topics as resource allocation, strategic planning, and neighborhood crime reduction.

MANAGING MAJOR EVENTS WITH DISTINCTION

BPD received national recognition for its handling of the mass protests in the wake of the killing of George Floyd. Protesters were able to exercise their first amendment rights safely and without major incident in contrast to much more violent and destructive demonstrations in other major cities.

Continued operations uninterrupted throughout COVID-19 Emergency, including temporary closures of two police districts and over 500 officers self-quarantined.

- BPD OFFICERS DURING PEACEFUL PROTEST AT CITY HALL

GUIDING OPERATIONS BY UTILIZING DATA-DRIVEN TOOLS & STRATEGIES

UTILIZE DATA-DRIVEN TOOLS AND STRATEGIES TO GUIDE
OPERATIONS AND MANAGEMENT OF THE DEPARTMENT

COMSTAT

Redesigned COMSTAT to be a 360-degree look at command's performance on crime, deployment, clearances, overtime, use of force, among many other metrics.

Created a web application that aggregates this data into a single easy to use platform that commanders have at their fingertips.

BCIC

Launched the Baltimore City Intelligence Centers (BCIC), where analysts assigned to police districts provide officers with real time intelligence and data.

Completed BCIC in the Eastern, Western and Southwestern Districts and looking to expand to all 9 districts throughout the City.

Analyzed five years of data to determine where and when crimes are most likely committed, and base deployment and overtime usage off of that information.

10
OR LESS

Instituted BPD's first response time goal of 10 minutes for Emergency Calls for Service.

Surpassed that goal with 8 minutes and working towards quicker response.

INCREASED FOCUS ON OFFICER SAFETY & WELLNESS

CREATING ACCOUNTABILITY BY REFORMING PUBLIC INTEGRITY BUREAU

PIB complaints previously took up to one year to complete. They now take an average of 9 months with goals to reduce even further. This was achieved by:

- ☑ Automating a paper-based case process through expanded use of IAPRO system.
- ☑ Creating an early resolution process for minor misconduct, allowing officers to resolve those issues swiftly while also freeing up PIB to focus on more serious complaints.
- ☑ Expanding internal investigation detectives from 16 to 23 with plans to add additional staffing.

FBI

Appointed a highly qualified and regarded Deputy Commissioner for PIB who previously served as the head of the FBI's Public Corruption Unit.

Developed a comprehensive investigations manual to facilitate thorough investigations of misconduct to uphold the integrity of the agency.

Initiated outside independent investigation into the GTTF scandal.

Implemented Critical Incident Release policy which guides the process for releasing video footage of critical incidents in a timely manner.

CAPACITY:

Prior to Commissioner Harrison's arrival, the Federal Judge and Monitoring Team continually questioned the Department's capacity to reform. With a strong leadership team in place, there's significantly more confidence in BPD's ability to reform.

USE OF FORCE:

BPD has already implemented the use of force reforms that communities across the nation are demanding. The entire department has been retrained on its new use of force policies which focus on de-escalation, the sanctity of human life, and police legitimacy.

VICTIM-CENTERED RESPONSE TO SEXUAL ASSAULT:

Implemented new policies and procedures on handling sexual assault incidents in a victim-centered, trauma-informed manner.

COMMUNITY POLICING:

Developed the Department's first-ever Community Policing Plan to build public trust and reduce crime through collaboration with the community. The Plan is based on community and officer feedback.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH AND CRISIS INTERVENTION:

BPD has overhauled its policies and is redeveloping training for the entire department, including new recruits and dispatchers to ensure they focus on de-escalation and diversion. BPD is also developing a new 40 hour Crisis Intervention Team certification class.

CONSTITUTIONAL STOPS, SEARCHES, AND ARRESTS AND IMPARTIAL POLICING:

Developed new policies and training to help our officers be proactive in protecting not just the safety but also the rights of all members of our community.

THE BPD CONTINUES TO MAKE GOOD PROGRESS ON THRESHOLD CONSENT DECREE OBLIGATIONS, AND THE INFRASTRUCTURE NECESSARY FOR BPD TO ACHIEVE SUSTAINABLE COMPLIANCE IS BEGINNING TO TAKE SHAPE.
